AFFIDAVIT.

City of New-York, ss.

William M'Cloughan resident of Gibb's alley, in the city of New-York, cooper, voluntary maketh oath that he was severely afflicted with a consumption for upwards of 18 years, that he laboured under the most inexpressible affliction with a violent cough and shortness of breath, that he could not lie down in his bed for weeks together, but was obliged to be preped up by pillows or in an armed chair, and in the day time unable to attend his business; that at length he was so reduced and wasted away, as to be scarce able to walk at all: that he had tried the skill of many respectable medical men, and has expended a very considerable sum of money, and has taken a great deal of medicines without effect. That at last he despaired of ever getting cured, till he, through recommendation, took Dr. Church's cough drops, from which he found very present relief, and by persevering in the use of them, he is now perfectly restored to health, and has had no return or symptom of his disorder since

WILLIAM M'CLOUGHAN.

Sworn to before me this 29th day of May, 1799.

Jacob De La Montagnie, Alderman.

Copy of a Letter from capt. Henry.

Dear Sir,

In the year '95. I had the misfortune to break a blood vessel, which was succeeded by a severe complaint on my lungs, cough, shortness of breath and spitting up of matter and blood, with every other disagreeable symptom of a disorder of the lungs; indeed so afflicting was this disorder, that I could not rest at night, nor could walk 200 yards in the day, without stopping to cough and rest myself a number of times. This disorder continued to increase upon me, till I was much wasted in body, and exceedingly weak. Seeing your advertisements in the public papers, early in the last summer, I commenced taking your justly celebrated Cough Drops, which I persevered in the use of, for sometime; I have now the happiness of informing you, my lungs are perfectly sound; I have no shortness of breath, or spitting up of matter or blood; my cough is a little troublesome in the morning, but no other time I am Sir,

Your's every respectfully,
WILLIAM HENRY.

New-York, July 10, 1798.

To DR. CHURCH.

Sir,

For upwards of twelve years, I have laboured under a severe cough, shortness of breath, spitting of matter from my lungs, and often clotted blood, till at length I was so reduced as to be unable to walk across my room, and owing to the violence of my cough and shortness of breath could get no rest day or night. Hearing of your excellent medicine, the Cough Drops, I procured a bottle; I took a dose as soon as I got it, from which I found instantaneous relief, and by continuing it for three days, I bless God I am restored to perfect health. As I believe, you have been the instrument in the hands of Providence, by saving my life, I must entreat you to publish this for the benefit of any who may be in my situation, as I am confident it is one of the best medicines in the world for those complaints.

I am Sir, your grateful servant,
NICHOLAS STAGG.

Foreign Intelligence.

PARIS, Dec. 12.

Differe t Journals have given in a liſt of the candidates for the conſulſhip. The greater part of them have pointed out Citizens Volney, Bertnier and Talleyraud Perigord as Colleagues to Buonaparte—others, who pretend to an equal degree of informa tion, aſſure us that Buonaparte will be the firſt Conſul, and will have for his colleagues Garat and Cam aceres. The faction of the Impatient are eagerly deſirous of ſeeing every thing elucidated. We think they muſt yet wait at leaſt ten days.

Paris is at this moment the reudezvous of almoſt all our generals.

NEW CONSTITUTION.

Buonaparte aſſembled at the Conſular Palace, on the 8th of December, the two Legiſlative Commiſſions. Roger Ducos took the chair.

Dannou read the plan of the New Conſtitution, of which we have only hitherto collected imperfect fragments.

The diſcuſſion was calm, and every way worthy of ſo great a cauſe. They firſt diſcuſſed it in whole and then article by article.

Some of the articles were ſtrongly combated, but they were carried by a great majority: others were rejected, and it was here that Buonaparte manifeſted his wonderful powers, for, after having collected all the opinions for and againſt an article, he commented on the argument advanced, and concluded by bringing the majority to agree to the propoſitions which he made.

The aſſembly did not ſeparate till ſeven o'clock next morning; and the eſtimable Daunou was appointed to digeſt the alterations which were made; and the act will be made public in a few days.

Citizen Rœderer has now liſted up another corner of the curtain that concealed the new Conſtitution. The following is the ſketch which he gives of the public eſtabliſhment;—

Legislative Power.

"There is to be a Council of State to propoſe laws, which Council of State conſtitutes part of the Executive Power. For the diſcuſſion of theſe propoſed laws, there is a Tribunate, or a ſelect body of the Repreſentatives of the people; and a Legiſlative body to decide upon the propoſitions after they have been diſcuſſed or aſſented to.

"The Legiſlative Body is to conſiſt of 300 members; the Tribunate of 100; and the Council of ſtate of 30.

Executive Power.

"There is to be a firſt or principal Conſul inveſted with power to appoint and remove Miniſters, Generals, Ambaſſadors, and Counſellors of State.—There are to be two other Conſuls to diſcuſs public matters in concert with the firſt Conſul. They are to have but a conſultive voice; their perſons are inviolable. They are named for ten years; they may be re-elected; they will have a guard. The grand Conſul will have 500,000 frances of ſalary. There are beſides two councils of State, the one for the Department of Foreign Affairs, and the other for the Home Department. This latter Council will have the initiative. It will have alſo to judge and decide on litigated queſtions in the department of the Admiralty. Such is the Government.

The Adminiſtration is conſided,

1. To Miniſters, or Councils of Adminiſtration, ſuch as the Amiralty.

2. To Adminiſtrations of Communes of 20 ſquare Myriametres, aſſiſted by commiſſioners to be named by the Cenſuls.

3. To intermediate Bureaus, charged only with the tranſmiſſion of the orders of the Miniſters to the Communal Adminiſtrations, and of the reports of the execution of the orders by the Adminiſtrative, as well as of Petitions and Appeals of the people to the Miniſters, from the acts of the Adminiſtrative Bodies.

"The Conſular Acts muſt be ſigned by a Miniſter before they can be executed. The Miniſters are reſponſible, each in his department, for the execution of Conſular Acts, which ſhall be contrary to the law, and for the non-execution of Conſular Acts agreeable to the Law.

Judicial Power.

"It ſhall be afterwards organized by the Conſtitutional means eſtabliſhed for the information of the Laws.

Conservative Power.

"There is to be a body of from 30 to 100 members elected for life. They muſt have a qualification land rental of 25000 francs a year. They name themſelves to vacancies in their own body. A perſon muſt be 40 years of age to be admiſſible. This body ſhall exerciſe various functions.

"1. They elect the members of the Legiſlative Body and the Tribunate, and take them from the liſt of the Notables of the nation, or elected out of the third degree.

"2. They ſhall pronounce on the unconſtitutional acts committed by the inviolable bodies of the Legiſlative or Executive powers.

"3. They ſhall exerciſe the right of cenſure on the liſt of the Notables of the nation, which they may every year reduce one hundredth part.

"4. They are or they probably may become a Grand Jury to try the crimes of High Treaſon, imputed to the great reſponſible Functionaries.

"The Conſuls in going out of office, or on giving their reſignation, ſhall enter of right into the Conſervative Body.

"The manner in which the Conſervative Power ſhall fill up vacancies in their own Body, is—Three candidates ſhall be preſented to them—one by the Grand Council, one by the Legiſlative Body, and one by the Tribunate.

"The Grand Conſul will alone be lodged at the Luxemburgh, the two others in the palace of the 500. The Tribunate and the Senate in the pavilion of the Thuilleries. The Conſervative Jury at the Louvre, in the place of the inſtitute, and the Inſtitute in the buildings of the Sarbonne. The invalids will be transferred to Verſailles, and ery thing that belongs to the miniſter at war, ſuch as the Etats-Major, the adminiſtrations, &c.

On the 22d inſt. (the 13th December,) the legiſlative body will be aſſembled, and on the 27th the Conſtitution will be officially tranſmitted to the departments."

Several journals have ſtated that citizen Sieyes is to be Preſident of the Conſtitutionary Jury. We think that we can ſtate with confidence thar this Jury will have no Preſident. All the members compoſing it will be equally qualified to exerciſe the functions of temporary Preſident, according to the mode of election to be adopted. A number of other reports of the ſame nature, which promote, this or the other citizen, and confer places before they exiſt, deſerve no greater credit. (Redacteur.)

LONDON, December 15.

Notwithſtanding the ſuſpenſion of arms concluded between Gen. Hedouville, and four of the royaliſt chiefs, it appears that not only the diſtrict of Vannes, in which General George commands, and part of Normandy, which is under the direction of General Frotte, continue their hoſtilities againſt the republic, but that the royaliſts are alſo under arms in ſeveral other parts of the Weſt, and particularly in the department of which Tours is the chief place. A letter from that city, dated on the 1ſt inſt. leads us to believe that the momentary pacification concluded by Gen. Hedouville, relates rather to the royaliſt chiefs than to their ſoldiers, and that a great part of the latter have gone to increaſe the other corps which are yet under arms.

Several changes, both in the adminiſtrations and in the army, have been made by the conſuls—Alquier has been appointed to ſucceed Guillemardet at Madrid; and it is thought that the miniſter d'Urquijo will alſo ere long be ſucceeded by ſome other perſon. There is no one who muſt not congratulate himſelf on the firſt of theſe changes, and who muſt not be deſirous of the latter. All the perſons condemned to deportation laſt month, and proviſionally thrown into priſon, have been releaſed. The Ex-Prince of Heſſe has been the laſt who has been ſet at liberty. In general almoſt all the acts of the preſent government ſhew that it is attempting to conciliate the public mind; but the ſtyle of the journals ſhews that it has been moſt aſſuredly ſucceſsful in making itſelf feared.

According to a letter from Bruſſels of laſt month, relative to Latour Maubourg, it has been conceived that the Conſtitutionaliſts of 1791, and, among others, La Fayette, were about to be recalled. This is poſſible, and to a certain degree probable; but nothing authentic has been publiſhed which leads to demonſtrate that ſuch a meaſure is in agitation. The recalling of the Dutcheſs of Aremberg and of ſome other Brabanters furniſhes no argument on ſuch a ſubject.

Since writing the above, we learn that Paris papers to the 9th have been received in town.—The moſt important circumſtance which we can collect from them is an inference which we are able to draw from the republican ſtatements, that the Auſtrians have obtained new advantages in Italy.

The Clyne, George, Wennel, and three other veſſels, on his Majeſty's late Proclamation permitting a Commercial Intercourſe with Holland, cleared out of the Cuſtom-Houſe in London in ballaſt for Amſterdam, where, on their arrival, they were ſeized, and their crews ledged in goal; the Batavian government alledging, that they had not opened their ports to England.

THE ITCH.

It is ſo certain in its operation, that it has never failed in any one inſtance whatever, of effectually curing that diſagreeable diſorder in four hours, by one application only, though applied to many thouſands in England, Scotland and Ireland. It does not contain one particle of mercury, (ſee the affidavit*) but may be applied with the greateſt ſafety, to the moſt delicate lady during pregnancy, or the tendereſt infants.

Centre Square, Febeuary 5, 1800.

IN compliance with the inſtructions of the Committee for watering the city, and with my own inclinations, every poſſible admittance and information has been given to thoſe citizens who have viſited the Works during their progreſs. The Engines are now arrived, and are immediately to be put up, and it is hoped that it will be thought reaſonable and juſt, both to the Public, and to the Contractor for the Engines, that the workmen ſhould not be interrupted. As a very few months will fully gratify the curioſity of the citizens, by ſhewing them the Engines in full operation, a temporary excluſion of all viſitors from the Engine houſes cannot appear improper.

A valuable Eſtate for ſale,
IN VIRGINIA.

THE NORWICH LANDS, MILLS, AND APPENDAGES.

THIS ESTATE

IS ſituated in the county of Henrico, on Four Mile Creek, near its junction with James River, about 12 miles from the city of Richmond, and nearly the ſame diſtance from Peterſburg.

There is about 150 acres of land, and the whole of it good ſoil for agriculture, and a full proportion of it very ſuitable for graſs; about one half of it is cleared and in a ſtate fit for immediate cultivation; the reſt is in woods and well covered with uſeful timber of different kinds. As to the improvements on the farm, there is a decent dwelling houſe with the uſual out houſes, a good brick ſpring houſe, and a large new excellent barn, one ſtory of brick, and the other framed work, two orchards of apples and of peaches, in full perfection and good fruit.

The mills conſiſt of three pair of bur ſtones for the grinding of wheat, and one pair of ſtones for grinding of corn, all of proved good quality, worked by overſhot water wheels and double gears, with all the late improvements for ſkreening, cleaning, bolting and elivating the wheat and flour, all executed in the beſt manner and of the beſt materials and quite new—The mill houſe is large and convenient, being 46 feet by 72 feet with five floors, the two lower ſtories are brick, the reſt framed work executed in the moſt ſubſtantial manner; the houſe and machinery of the mills will be found unexceptionable, and they are ſo ſituated as to be free from all riſque from the freſhes or inundation of the water courſes—There is a very convenient brick bake houſe two ſtories high, with two large ovens; a very good houſe for the proprietor or manager, a ſtore room, counting room, kitchen, &c. alſo ſuitable houſes for millers, coopers, and bakers—The tide water from James River flows to the walls of the mill, where boats of three to four hundred buſhels burthen can receive their loads out of the mill, and in one miles diſtance, ſhips of any ſize that navigate James River, can load in great ſafety.

The neighborhood is healthy—very reſpectable as to inhabitants, being moſtly independent farmers, and the ſoil is in general very juſtly eſteemed equal to any on James River, for the growing of wheat; upon a moderate calculation, the average annual crops of the neighborhood equally convenient if not more ſo, to the Norwich Mills, than to any other market, amount to between thirty and forty thouſand buſhels of wheat. Mr. John P. Gordon who lives on the premiſes at preſent, will ſhew the whole to thoſe who may incline to view it.

I would preſer a purchaſer who could pay down the principal part of the purchaſe money, and would give a very advantageous bargain—or I will ſell on a credit convenient to the purchaſer, the intereſt being paid annually. I will wait for a purchaſer till the 15th day of March next, and if not then ſold, I will be glad to treat with a tenant for a leaſe, on terms which may be mutually agreeable. I have offered the whole of this eſtate for ſale, on a preſumption that the purchaſer of the mills would incline to have the land alſo, for a ſupply of building timber, oven wood and hoop poles; but if it be more agreeable to him to take the mills and a few acres of land, he ſhall be accommodated accordingly.

INTERESTING.

SUMMARY OF POLITICS.

From a Britiſh Periodical work.

Amidſt the various viciſſitudes of human life, the moſt painful taſk of the Hiſtorian of human events is to trace the deſtructive progreſs of vice, and to mark the diſcomfiture of virtue. Such, unhappily, is our taſk at the preſent moment. After a ſeries of victories, for their rapidity and importance almoſt unparalleled in hiſtory; and which made the tyrants of the Luxembourg tremble on their blood—ſtained thrones, by one ſtroke of falſe policy, or rather, by one act of political inſanity, the face of affairs has been changed, and fearful expectations excited reſpecting the ultimate iſſue of a campaign, opened under the moſt propitious circumſtances, and, till lately, conducted with the moſt conſummate wiſdom.

In noticing in our laſt ſummary, the departure of the Archduke Charles from Switzerland, we gave him credit, either for the precaution of having left in that country a ſufficient force to oppoſe the enemy with effect, or for having adopted ſuch means as would enable him, to act with ſpeed and deciſion on the rear of Maſſena's army, ſo as to incapacitate the French from retaining a foothold in Switzerland. The military genius which this Prince had diſplayed, certainly juſtified this ſuppoſition; and, had full ſcope been given to the free exerciſe of his own judgment, ſuch would doubtleſs have been the reſult of his operations. But, we muſt confeſs our error in not having made ſufficient allowance for the diſgraceful reſtrictions impoſed on his conduct by the Aulic Council, (and which have, on former occaſions, been noticed and reprobated by us) and in not admitting the poſſibility that he could have received poſitive inſtructions, the almoſt inevitable reſult of which was to expoſe the armies* left in Switzerland to defeat, if not to deſtruction. Such inſtructions were, however, ſent to the Archduke, and his obedience led to the diſaſters which we have now to record.

The force which the archduke took with him to Suabia has been differently eſtimated, the loweſt computation fixing it at 48,000, the higheſt at 60,000; the former is the more probable. That which he left behind him is more preciſely aſcertained; it conſiſted of 21,000 Ruſſians under their general KORSAKOFF, and 18,900 Auſtrians, Bavarians, and other auxiliaries, forming a total of 39,900 men; deſtined to defend an extenſive line of country in front of a General regardleſs of human lives, and having under him an army of 70,000 men! From this ſtatement ſome uncontrovertible concluſions may be drawn: Firſt, that the archduke, after the arrival of the Ruſſians, had an opportunity of attacking the enemy with a great ſuperiority of force, and conſequently, with the faireſt proſpect of ſucceſs; ſecondly, that he might even have detached 20,000 men (a force fully adequate to the purpoſe) to expel the French from Manheim and the neighbouring country, and ſtill have retained a ſuperiority; thirdly, that, if unwilling (from any motive whatever) to attack the enemy in the poſition which he then occupied, he might, without expoſing his troops have remained inactive, and have kept Maſſena at bay till the arrival of Suwarrow from Italy; fourthly, that, on no eſtabliſhed mode of reaſoning from precedent or analogy, from no one known principle of military tactics, could it be preſumed that Maſſena, with a force nearly double that of the allies, would remain in a ſtate of inactivity; and, fifthly, that if, under ſuch circumſtances, he ſhould make an attack, its ſucceſs was nearly certain. How facts ſo plain and obvious could eſcape the notice of the Aulic Council it is not eaſy for us to conceive; and how, if recognized by the Council, they ſhould have failed to deter them from giving ſuch inſtructions, it is ſtill more difficult for us to conjecture.

The conſequences of the Archduke's departure were ſuch as might naturally be expected; the French troops which had croſſed the Rhine at Manheim were unable to cope with the Auſtrians, by whom they were defeated at Neckerau, with the loſs of 1800 men, and ſoon after compelled to evecuate MANHEIM, and to recroſs the Rhine. Maſſena, mean while, appriſed of the intention of Suwarrow to repair to Switzerland, reſolved to make his grand attack before he could arrive. On the 25th of September he put his plan in execution; He croſſed the Limath in different places, intercepted the communication between the different wings of the Ruſſians, and, after an obſtinate action, in which victory long remained doubtful, (the determined valour of the Ruſſians ſupplying their inferiority of numbers,) ſucceeded in gaining poſſeſſion of the heights which command Zurich and the neighbouring country. The Auſtrian corps, under general HOTZE, ſtationed on the Linthe, had been attacked by another deviſion of the French, at three o'clock in the morning, and its gallant commander having been unfortunately killed ſoon after the action began, it was compelled to give way; and, in the courſe of the enſuing night, general Petraſch, on whom the command had devolved, leaving the Ruſſians to their fate, and intent only on the preſervation of the Griſon country and Vorarlberg, retreated with precipitation from the ſcene of action. Thus circumſtanced, the evacuation of Zurich became a matter of neceſſity, and we are only ſurpriſed at the ability of the Ruſſian General in effecting his retreat in ſuch good order, and with ſuch little loſs; for it appears certain, from the official accounts, that, in killed, wounded, and taken, his loſs falls ſhort of 3000. That of General Hotze's diviſion has not been aſcertained.

During theſe operations, Marſhal SUWOROW having completed the reduction of Tortona, left Italy with an army rated, in ſome accounts, at 18,000, in others at 15,000, and, forcing the French from their ſtrong poſitions on Mount St. Gothard, deſcended, on the very day on which MASSENA made his general attack (the 25th) into the valley of Urſeren, and, driving LECOURBE before him, with conſiderable ſlaughter, advanced as far as Altorf. He even penetrated, on the next day, into the canton of Glaris, and took 1000 priſoners of the French; while the Ruſſian General ROSEMBERG, was equally ſucceſsful in the canton of Schwitz, where General AUFFENBURG had effected a junction with him; and General LINKEN defeated, and took another corps of French conſiſting of 1300 men. By theſe operations, the French loſt ſeveral thouſands of their troops, detached from the main body of their army, but SUWAROW, finding it impracticable to effect a junction with KORSAKOFF, retired, on the 1ſt of October, into the Griſon country, there to wait the arrival of his artillery, which he had ſent from Italy through the Tyrol.

The French Directory availed themſelves of this advantage to impoſe, with their uſual effrontery, on the credulity of the abject millions who are ſubject to their nod; and, in their meſſages, and their journals, the contents of which were induſtriouſly circulated throughout this country, proclaimed the total defeat and diſperſion of the allied army in Switzerland, with the loſs of 30,000 men. No recent accounts having been received from this quarter, it is not poſſible to aſcertain the relative poſition of the hoſtile armies; but certain it is, that Maſſena, notwithſtanding his victory, is placed in a ſituation of extreme peril, whence the exertion of much caution, and the diſplay of conſiderable talents will be requiſite to extricate him. On the one ſide he is expoſed to an attack from the Archduke, who, on receiving the news of the defeat of the allies, haſtened to SCHAFFHAUSEN, with 20,000 men, and from KORSAKOFF, who has at leaſt an equal force; while, on the other, he is cloſely watched by SUWAROW, whoſe army, if joined by generals AUFFENBERG and LINKEN, cannot fall ſhort of 25,000, to which Maſſena cannot poſſibly oppoſe more than 60,000. By this ſtatement, which is very far from being exaggerated, it will appear that the affairs of the allies are not in the deſperate ſtate in which the jacobins of France and England have been pleaſed to repreſent them. At the ſame time, however, it would be folly to deny, that nothing but a perfect union of plan and operation, wiſdom in councils, and energy in action, can deprive the French of the advantages which they have obtained in Switzerland, and ſecure the triumph of the good cauſe.

The KING of Pruſſia, as if ſolicitous to convince poſterity, that acts of rebellion were not confined to the regicides of France, has, in direct violation of as ſolemn an engagement as any by which his ſubjects can be bound in allegiance to him, peremptorily refuſed to comply with the formal declaration of the Diet at Ratiſbon for ſupplying the quintuple contingent in defence of the empire againſt the French. That ſuch refuſal, from a prince of the empire, is a complete act of rebellion, no man who is acquainted the nature and principles of the Germanic conſtitution, will preſume to deny. It ſubjects his majeſty to the ban of the empire, and to the confiſcation of his territories; and nothing but the inability of the empire, under exiſting circumſtances, to inflict this puniſhment, could, we ſuſpect, have induced the king to incur it. However that may be, the crime ſtill remains the ſame, and Europe, aſtoniſhed, beholds in her boſom, the unnatural ſpectacle of a crowned republican.

The ſloop of war Delaware and the brig Seammel were lying at Curacoa the 24rh January.

Mr. DAWSON's Reply to G. Chriſtie, Eſq. is received, and will appear to-morrow.

NORFOLK, February 8.

Yeſterday put into this port in a leaky condition, the ſhip Martha, of Boſton, capt. Moore, after a paſſage of five months from Calcutta. The Martha is loaded with ſaltpetre on account of government.

By this arrival we learn that there had been a dreadful hurricane at the Cape of Good Hope on the 5th November laſt, in which the Britiſh ſhip Sceptre of 64 guns, a Daniſh 64 gun ſhip, and a number of merchantmen were loſt; the brig Hannah, Wyman, belonging to Boſton, was one of the number. All the crews were ſaved, except the Sceptre's, in which veſſel upwards of 300 ſouls periſhed.

Important Commercial Intelligence.

Mr. FRY, agent for the Inſurance Company of North America, by letters of the 16th December, received yeſterday, informs that he has recently recovered and received payment for three claims; viz.

For the Start, Mallebay & Durand,
Riſing Sun, Wilkie, and

and that the money has been recovered on ſeveral other claims, for which compleat powers only are wanting to enable him to receive the ſame.

As many other claims for other companies and for private underwriters muſt have progreſſed at the ſame time, this intelligence is of very great importance.

Philadelphia, Feb. 15, 1800.

DEAR SIR,

By order of the committee of arrangement, I do myſelf the pleaſure to ſend you an extract from the minutes of the ſtanding committee of the Pennſylvania ſociety of the Cincinnati, in order that you may take ſuch meaſures in conſequence thereof as you may deem proper.

I beg leave to mention that it is the wiſh of the committee that the proceſſion ſhould move from the State Houſe preciſely at 12 o'clock, and return in the ſame order in which it proceeds to the church.

I am with much reſpect and eſteem,
Dear Sir, your obedient ſervant,
M. M'CONNEL, Aſſt. Sec'ry.

Brigadier Gen. Macpherſon.

Brigadier general MACPHERSON, in conſequence of the above communication, directs that the BLUES parade at the State Houſe on Saturday the 22d at 11 o'clock A. M. in uniform, with their ſide arms only. By order of Brigadier General Macpherſon.

CONGRESS.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

MONDAY, February 17.

Mr. Speaker laid before the houſe a letter from General Edward Hand, Preſident of the Pennſylvania Society of Cincinnati, inviting the members to attend the funeral Oration to be delivered on the twenty-ſecond February inſtant, by a member of the Society.

Mr. Speaker alſo read a letter from the commiſſioners appointed to ſeal and adjuſt the claims of Canada and Nova Scotia Refugees, incloſing a ſtatement of their proceedings under the act authorizing their appointment—which was ordered to be printed.

The Houſe went into committee of the whole on the bill to extend time of payment of bonds given for duties of impoſt, in certain caſes, and reported their agreement to the ſame. It was ordered to be read a 3d time to-morrow.

Mr. Thatcher preſented a petition of Thomas Cutts and others of the town of Pepperelborough, praying for an extenſion of drawbacks—Referrred to the committee of commerce and manufactures.

Mr. Gallatin preſented a petition of the conſtructors of muſical inſtruments, reſident in Philadelphia, New York and Baltimore, praying that the rates of duties on the inſtruments imported, may be ſo raiſed as to prevent the importation injuring their manufacture in this country--Referred to the committee of commerce and manufactures.

Mr. D. Foſter, from the committee of Claims, made a report on the petition of the corporation of Rhode Iſland College, recommending an agreement, on the part of the houſe, to a reſolution heretofore reported on that ſubject—the purport of which is, that the accounting officers of the treaſury ſhould liquidate and ſettle the claims for compenſating for the uſe and occupation of the college edifice, and for injuries done to the ſame by the troops of the United States.

The report was a firſt and ſecond time read committed to a committee of the whole houſe, and made the order of the day for Wedneſday next.

Mr. Rutledge ſaid, he had expected that ſome order would have been taken on the meſſage of the Preſident, before this time. by the gentleman who called for it; but as he had been diſappointed he would now give notice to the hon. member from New-York, that he would call for ſome order upon the meſſage to-morrow.

Mr. Livingſton ſaid, the gentleman had momently anticipated him; he meant to have moved for a reference to a committee of the whole houſe this morning, with an intention to introduce certain reſolutions, and he would now make that motion.

The queſtion on commitment was put and carried—ayes 50, noes 23—and was made the order of the day for Friday.

Mr. Bayard then laid the following reſolution on the table, which was read and referred to the above committee, viz.

Reſolved, That the conduct of the Executive Government of the United States, in relation to the requiſition made by his Britannic Majeſty's Miniſter, of the delivery up to juſtice of Thomas Naſh, otherwiſe Jonathan Robbins; upon the charge of murder, committed on board of the Hermione Britiſh frigate, which ſaid Naſh had ſought an aſylum within the United States, was conformable to the duty of the government, and to the obligations of good faith ſtipulated in the 27th art. of the treaty of amity commerce and navigation, made with Great Britain.

Mr. Dana called up for conſideration, the order which he propoſed to be made relative to the admiſſion of ſtrangers by a card given by a member, and after ſome debate, it was negatived—Ayes 30, noes 41.

On motion of Mr. D. Foſter, the petition of Ebenezer Hazard, preſented in Feb. 1796, was referred to the Committee of Claims.

On motion of Mr. Otis, the order of the day for a third reading of the bankrupt bill, was poſtponed till to-morrow.

The Houſe again went into committee of the whole on the bill further to ſuſpend the commercial intercourſe between the United States and France—Mr. Morris in the chair, and

Mr. Nicholas's amendment being under conſideration, Meſſrs. Otis, Rutledge and H. Lee ſpoke againſt it; and Meſſrs. Nicholas, Macon, and Randolph, in favor of it.

Mr. Kittera then moved that the committee, for the purpoſe of taking into conſideration the reſolution which he laid on the table on Friday, propoſing to continue in force the exiſting law which will expire on the 2d day of March next, till the 2d day of April next.

This motion was negatived, ayes 37, noes 44, on the ground that the bill under conſideration would be likely to paſs as ſoon as the one which the gentleman contemplated.

Meſſrs. Marſhall and Waln then ſpoke againſt it, and Meſſrs. Smith, Randolph, Nicholas, Jones and Clay, in favour of it, when the queſtion on the amendment was taken and negatived—ayes 42—noes 51.

The committee then roſe, reported progreſs, and obtained leave to ſit again.

Adjourned.

* In the original, this word ſtands "enemies." Much as I deſpiſe hyper criticiſm, I will nevertheleſs here remark, that this work (which I will not name, becauſe I ſhall be underſtood where I wiſh to be) is the most incorrect in its typography, which I ever met with.

The Editors ſeized a very odd occaſion to publiſh, that my Printing was "very incorrect." Their motives or their grounds for this aſſertion, I am not to judge of. I derive very great pleaſure from peruſing the productions of the numerous orthodox writers in this work, and ſincerely wiſh, that they may in future, inſtead of pouncing upon obſcure and unimportant prey, attend to this which more nearly concerns them. It is ridiculous to hear complaints of ſedition from the Gracchi.

UPWARDS OF

Eighteen Thousand Persons

Of all ages, within nine months paſt, have found relief from

HAMILTON'S

Worm deſtroying Lozenges,

In various complaints ariſing from worms and from foulneſs or obſtructions in the ſtomach and bowels.

RECENT CURES

Selected from ſeveral hundreds, the authenticity of which, any perſon may aſcertain either by letter or perſonal application—not being performed in Europe, nobody knows where—but at home.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of ſimilar title ſo commonly complained of, as operating with a degree of violence, ſufficient, not only to kill worms, but ſometimes to endanger the patient's life; on the contrary, a peculiar excellence of this remedy is, its being ſuited to every age and conſtitution, contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent, and is ſo mild in its operation, that it cannot injure the moſt delicate pregnant lady, or the tendereſt infant of a week old, ſhould no worms exiſt in the body; but will, without pain or griping, cleanſe the ſtomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offenſive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal diſorders.

AFFIDAVIT.

MICHAEL DUFFY, reſiding at No. 47, Wilkes ſtreet, Fell's point, in the city of Baltimore, voluntarily maketh oath, that the following ſtatement is juſt and true.

In the beginning of May laſt, my three children, a boy of ſeven, and two girls, the one five and the other three years of age, were taken very ill, nearly at the ſame time, of a common fever, as I then ſuppoſed: but was ſoon convinced the diſorder was cauſed by worms—they were frequently troubled with convulſion fits, and violent ſtartings in their ſleep, and with almoſt continual vomiting and purging; particularly the youngeſt. I made immediate application to a phyſician of the firſt reputation, and his medicines were adminiſtered with a confidence of ſucceſs which only encreaſed our diſappointment. The children grew daily worſe, and I was abſolutely without hopes of their recovery. The youngeſt ſoon appeared almoſt devoid of animation, and ſcarcely an inhabitant of this world. In this diſtreſſing moment, I was told that Hamilton's Worm Deſtroying Lozenges had performed many cures in caſes equally deſperate—I immediately purchaſed a box, and gave each of them a doſe, which in a few hours produced the moſt deſirable effects; the eldeſt voided a great number of very large worms, and the ſecond thouſands of ſmall ones, many of them not a quarter of an inch long—in the youngeſt they ſeemed to be conſumed, and had the appearance of ſkins and of ſlimy matter. I repeated the doſe agreeable to the paper of directions, and they all ſpeedily recovered a good ſtate of health which they ſtill enjoy, tho' five months have nearly elapſed ſince they were on the borders of the grave, and the death of the whole appeared to be inevitable.

Sworn before me this 25th day of September, 1799. J. SMITH.

LETTER

From Mr. John J. Abercromby, Soap and Candle Manufacturer, No. 28, Bridge Street, Baltimore.

TO THE PROPRIETOR OF

Hamilton's Worm Deſtroying Lozenges.

SIR, October 22, 1799.

I think it my nuty to inform you that I have experienced the happieſt effects from your Lozenges, having been much afflicted for four years paſt, with various complaints cauſed by worms, particularly a conſtant pain in my ſtomach and bowels, frequent and ſevere head ache, with a general laſſitute and weakneſs, during which time I had the beſt medical advice that could be obtained from the moſt ſkilful phyſicians I could hear of, both American and European, without any alleviation of my diſorder.

I ſhould, too probably, have continued without relief, but for your Worm Deſtroying Lozenges, which brought from me an aſtoniſhing quantity of ſmall white worms, about the ſize of a coarſe thread, and in a ſhort time, I found myſelf perfectly free from all my former complaints, and have enjoyed a good ſtate of health for five months paſt.

I have conſtantly recommended your medicine, and ſhall as long as I live, having, from, my own experience reaſon to believe it to be an invaluable and unparalell'd remedy. Should any perſon wiſh for further information, I will with pleaſure ſatisfy their enquiries on this ſubject. JOHN J. ABERCROMBY.

SIR, July 10, 1799.

I had been a long time afflicted with a violent and gnawing pain in my ſtomach, a dull, heavy, continual head ache, with a frequent ſwimming in my head, accompanied with dimneſs of ſight and ſometimes partial blindneſs, and was rendered incapable of attending my buſineſs, thro' loſs of ſtrength; ſometimes could ſcarcely eat a morſel for two or three days; when my appetite would ſuddenly become aſtoniſhingly voracious. I firmly believed myſelf to be in a conſumption, which muſt ſoon put a period to my life, when happily hearing of ſeveral cures performed by Hamilton's Worm Deſtroying Lozenges in complaints which could not be accounted for, I took two doſes, which expelled an incredible number of ſmall ſharp pointed worms: in ſhort, I now enjoy as perfect health and ſtrength, as ever I did in my life, and I believe my cure to be entirely effected by means of your medicine.

My brother witneſſing its ſurprizing efficacy was induced to take a doſe though in tolerable health, which occaſioned him likewiſe to void a great quantity of worms of the ſame kind, and thereby probably prevented his experiencing thoſe dreadful diſorders with which I was afflicted.

A ſincere deſire that others in ſimilar circumſtances may receive the ſame benefit, is the reaſon of my ſending you this account.

Yours, very reſpectfully,
AQUILA GOLDING.

Hartford Road, 2 miles from Baltimore.

OBSERVE.

Thoſe who wiſh to avail themſelves of the benefits propoſed by the above remedy, ſhould be particularly careful as they value their money and their health, to guard againſt the numerous impoſitions daily attempted on the public, by applying to Mr. Wm. Y. Birch, Stationer, No. 17, South Second Street, who is appointed the only vender in Philadelphia.—Likewiſe obſerve that none can be depended on as being genuine, unleſs the ſignature of Lee & Co. is paſted on the outſide of each.

Purchaſers by the dozen or groce will receive handſome allowance by application to Lee and Co. Market ſtreet, Baltimore.

To the nervous, weak, debilitated, ſedentary and conſumptive,

IS RECOMMENDED, THE CELEBRATED

BOTANICAL TEA,

Inſtead of Foreign Tea.

THIS Tea is univerſally approved of in preference to foreign tea, as the moſt pleaſant, wholeſome, enlivening invigorating, and powerful reſtorative ever adopted for perſons of all ages, but particularly thoſe of the above deſcription; as it will infallibly ſtrengthen, and eventually repair a bad conſtitution.

It is taken for breakfaſt inſtead of foreign tea, and as our firſt aliment in the morning is deſigned to recruit the waſte of the body from the night's inſenſible perſpiration; it is well known, and an important fact which ought to be borne on the mind of every one, that foreign teas are inadequate to ſuch purpoſes, as all will allow; it unnerves and wears the ſubſtance of the ſolids. This ſubſtitute is profeſſionally approved as a ſalutary and nouriſhing diet, or as a morning and afternoon beverage.

THE BOTANICAL TEA

is ſingularly efficacious in all caſes of inward weakneſs, trembling or ſhaking of the hands, loſs of appetite, (particularly in the morning) depreſſion of ſpirits, windy complaints. It ſpeedily relieves the head and ſtomach in gouty or rheumatic caſes; and in caſes of weak digeſtion, but particularly after making too free with the conſtitution, by an immoderate uſe of wine, ſpiritous liquors, or any intemperance; it is happily ſuited to hot climates, and is adopted and approved of by ſome of the firſt families in the United States and in the Weſt Indies, for its nouriſhing and invigorating properties; and in bilious caſes where the appetite has failed, it is a ſovereign remedy.

As proofs of the evil tendency from the uſe of foreign teas, is ſubjoined the opinions of ſome of the firſt phyſicians in Europe.

ON FOREIGN TEA

"The cauſe of the palſy is drinking too much tea; many imagine tea has no ill effect upon the nerves, this however is a miſtake: it effects the nerves, which is evident from its cauſing the hands to ſhake, preventing ſleep, occaſioning giddineſs, dimneſs of ſight, ſickneſs, &c.

Dr. BUCHAN.

"Strong infuſions of India Tea, not only unnerves but deſtroys the bodily functions"

Dr. H. SMITH.

And in another publication, Dr. Hugh Smith ſays, "Tea is hurtful both to the ſtomach and nerves; it cauſes phrenſies, delirium, appoplexies, and other diſorders of the brain, which are produced by the nerves being thus diſarranged and debilitated, the digeſtive faculty of the ſtomach is much weakened, and the body failing of the recruiting juices, muſt tend to emaciation and the whole frame thus rendered one ſyſtem of diſtreſs and infirmity."

The juſtly celebrated Dr. Tillot ſays, "This faſhionable beverage, India Tea, is extremely pernicious, it deſtroys the ſtrength of the ſtomach the vicera, the blood, the nerves, and eventually the whole body."

Dr. Moliere ſays, "In bilious complaints, tea is extremely hurtful."

Dr. Fothergill. "Tea is very offenſive to the lungs, and impedes reſpiration; it is therefore highly improper for perſons who have a difficulty of breathing, or any complaint of the lungs or nerves."

Dr. Sanuders ſays, (ſee his Medical Mem.) "Indian tea renders men impotent and women barren; hence we may account for the perſons in the higher circles having few children, and thoſe in general very ſickly and unhealthy."

For more accounts of this tea, ſee the ſeconp edition of Dr. Church's pamphlet.

This botanical tea is calculated to produce the contrary effects, is the reſult of long and indefatigable ſtudy and experience, and by perſeveringly adopting its uſe, will be found to anſwer the effects herein mentioned.

It is cheaper than India tea—ONE packet at 75 cents, will laſt one perſon for breakfaſt nearly one month—cannifters containing eight packets, five dollars.

 The celebrated BOTANICAL TEA is prepared only by Dr. James Church, at his diſpenſary, No. 137 Front-Street, near the Fly-Market, New-York, and ſold wholeſale and retail, by Meſſrs. H. and P. Rice, 16 South Second Street, Philadelphia, and Mr. Jas. Rice, Baltimore.

FOR ALL

DISEASES OF THE EYES.

Church's celebrated Eye Salve.

For ſeveral years univerſally acknowledged as a certain and infallible cure for inflammations, dimneſs, dryneſs, blights, itchings, and films in the eyes, proceeding from natural weakneſs, or from accidents, ſuch as blows, duſt, lime, or any thing elſe being thrown into the eyes. It is admirable in natural weakneſs of ſight, in deſluctions of rheum, and for all ailments in the eyes after the ſmall pox, meaſles and fevers; it is ſingularly efficacious in carrying off all watery and groſs humours; and in ſtrengthening the ſight—In ſhort, there is no diſeaſe to which the eye is ſubject, but this ſalve is not a ſovereign remedy: many hundreds have experienced its efficacy when in the greateſt danger of loſing their ſight.

[Price 75 cents.]

Prepared ouly by the inventor and ſole proprietor, Dr. James Church, at his diſpenſary, 137 Front ſtreet, near the Fly market, New York; and ſold by Meſſrs. H. and P. Rice, 16 ſouth Second ſtreet, Philadelphia.

The nervous, debilitated, or ſedentary, whoſe diſeaſes have in a great meaſure baffled the powers of medicine, would do well in making trial of which need only to be taken to acquire univerſal approbation; not only for its balſamic and reſtorative properties, in all decays from age, intemperance or diſeaſe; and in preſerving a good conſtitution and mending a bad one, but for its claims to public favor, as a pleaſant and wholeſome breakfaſt; which will be found infinitely ſuperior to Foreign Tea. Artiſts and others whoſe profeſſions require a ſteady hand, will find great relief from the uſe of this vegetable diet, but particularly thoſe who lead a ſedentary life.
